TABLE TALK AT THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Room for 15 people on the Commercial club trip can be furnished, and any one interested is invited to go. Reservations can be made by telephoning the Commercial club.

The rain last night should get the roads in perfect trim for the trip Monday, says J. Will Kelley. There was a little dust blowing at the beginning of the week as it had not rained for so long, but the rain fixed that without "fixing" the roads, he says.

There will be five all night stops during the booster trip, at Abilene, Beloit, Russell, McPherson, and Cottonwood Falls, in the order named. Twenty counties will be covered.

Little car trouble on the booster trip is looked for, says Earl Akers. A mechanic from the Topeka Tire Shop and a trouble car will accompany the travelers, and no one should have any inconvenience. A slow schedule is being followed and the garages along the road will store cars over night without charge.

The cost of the booster trip will not exceed $15, said J. Will Kelley today. "We want as many people as possible to go and I shall be glad to give details if they will call the Commercial club. Many of the men are taking their wives. The pilot car will be driven by H. S. Putney and will leave Topeka next Monday morning at 7 o'clock."

C. S. Elliott saw a piece of white goods lying on the floor last night at the Commercial club banquet. Thinking that the lady next to him had dropped her handkerchief, he made a polite dive for it and was about to restore the fabric to its rightful owner

STOPS SUNDAY HUNT

Governor Capper Orders Greeley County Wolf Chase Checked.

Greeley county's wolf hunt for the benefit of some moving picture men, cannot be held Sunday, under instructions issued today by Governor Capper. In a telegram today to W. M. Glenn, county attorney of Greeley county, the governor called attention to the general statutes prohibiting Sunday hunting in Kansas and urged that the law be enforced.

Several hundred Greeley county people planned to participate in a big wolf hunt Sunday. Several movie men expected to be in the hunt and to take pictures of the chase, which in a degree would be a county-wide event. When this news came to the state house, the matter was checked up to the attorney general's office. As a result of a ruling by S. M. Hunt, assistant attorney general, the governor wired Glenn to enforce the anti-Sunday hunting law. If necessary, Glenn is expected to bring injunction proceedings against the Sunday hunters.
